A Study of Work Life Balance During The Covid-19 Crisis	Vidyabharati International Interdisciplinary Research Journal	2319-4979	https://www.viirj.org/specialissues/SP4/SP4.html

1	A Study of Work Life Balance During the Covid-19 Crisis	 Vidyabharati International Interdisciplinary Research Journal (Special Issue June 2020) ISSN 2319-4979 <hr/> A STUDY OF WORK LIFE BALANCE DURING THE COVID-19 CRISIS V. D. Patil, S. Deshmukh Mahila Mahavidyala, Amravati <hr/> ABSTRACT With the emergence of corona positive cases in India and reporting rising number of positive patients there was a threat to the mankind. The pandemic resulted in Lockdown 1 from 25th march which still continues. The organizations in India were not ready to face the challenges which involve remote working- work from home or work flexibility on the other part the IT sector continued the work from home smoothly. But work from home comes with lot of challenges; some enjoy it while some still feel maintaining a balance between work and home is far easier from the office than working from home. Most other organizations find it difficult to manage the work from home during covid pandemic. The education sector was struggling to complete the syllabus online while banking sector was trying to prevent their employees with the work flexibility of 4 hrs a day but at work place. The manufacturing sector was the one who suffered the most as they cannot actually provide work from home to their all employees. Many start-ups were closed as they were struggling with the IT infrastructure and the business opportunities was lacking due to the pandemic. The fear of corona pandemic and to complete the deadlines continued to stress the employees. Some enjoyed working from home while some still felt managing things from work was far better. The paper focuses on various aspects of work life balance of the employees during the lockdown period from various sectors. <hr/> Keywords- Work from home, work life balance & work flexibilities.
